Ascent Route: Annette Lake trail to top of switchbacks about 1/2 way in. Then about 110° to ridge top. Followed ridge to south and around to east and approached summit from the west. Some rock outcroppings that must go over or around.
 Descent Route: Went straight down to Lake Annette from Summit angle went to come to lake at NW corner. Snow was very solid. Would not want this route if any avalanches potential.

Trip Narrative/Comments (about skills and conditioning of students):
WX was cloudy with only a few breaks that allowed visibility over 1/2 mile. Light snow on way up. View from Lake Annette out. The snow sculpturing on the trees along the ridge was beautiful. Great group, great fun.
